About the EMS Exemplary Service Medal

The EMS Exemplary Service Medal is the newest member of the Exemplary Service Medals family. It was created on July 7, 1994 to recognize professionals in the provision of pre-hospital emergency medical services who have performed their duties in an exemplary matter.

IMPORTANT: Please ensure that you meet all of the qualifications prior to completing the Certification Form. If you do not meet these requirements, you are not eligible to receive this award.

Qualifications

To qualify for the EMS Exemplary Service Medal the member must meet the regulation which states “the medal may be awarded to any person who:”

- a. is an emergency medical services employee on or after October 31, 1995;

What is ‘Exemplary Service?’

Section 2 of the Regulations governing the award states “exemplary service means service, characterized by good conduct, industry, efficiency that serves as a model for others.”

Exemplary service is that standard of individual EMS service, performance and dedication that we would wish to see imitated. It is the model of what we would wish all EMS personnel to be, rather than merely the standard of performance we require.

Defining characteristics of an Exemplary Service Medal nominee may include:

- Irreproachable
- Admirable
- Leader/Definer
- Devoted
- Visionary
- Committed
- Change the way we practice
- Influential
- Gives unselfishly
- Public image of the practice
- Altruistic
- Humble

Required Information

Please include the following information:

1. Years of Service: Entries must reflect the specific years of service working full-time “In the Field”. This time must be the time spent in duties in which the individual is personally required to provide emergency medical treatment to patients and is, therefore personally subject to the potential dangers at the scene and resulting from direct contact with the patient. This time could include a mobile supervisory position, the job description of which requires him/her to regularly attend the scene and personally provide back-up and assistance to the crews on duty.

Time spent in positions where the job descriptions do not require the individual to come into regular, direct contact with emergency scenes and patients will not be counted towards the ten years of “potential risk”.

2. Certification Form/Portfolio: The Nova Scotia Certification Form (completed by the nominee) must be completed and accompanied by a portfolio/documentation which provides evidence of the exemplary nature of the nominee’s EMS history.
3. Submit Certification Form/Portfolio electronically: Nominations for EMS Exemplary Service Medals must be received by the Nova Scotia Awards Committee no later than March 30, 2018. Nominations received after the deadline will be kept on file and reviewed the following year. Incomplete nominations will be returned to the nominator or to the paramedic being nominated.

Important: Certification Forms/Portfolio and any documentation must be submitted electronically, via email, to esmns@emci.ca. The Nova Scotia Awards Committee will not accept hard-copy submissions. (Please include all scanned portfolio items in one document).
